Our impact in New York starts with direct engagement in local communities:

BNY Mellon Commitment Will Revitalize Bronx Neighborhood

BNY Mellon has committed $286 million to help transform an underutilized strip of former industrial property in New York City's Bronx borough into a bustling neighborhood with quality housing, open space, retail, and other amenities to attract a mix of households with varying income levels. When complete, about 75 percent of the housing units will be for households at 60 percent or below the area median income.

Citi Helps New Yorkers with Disabilities Build Financial Security

In 2018, Citi provided $1 million to help New Yorkers with disabilities across the five boroughs build their financial security. EmpoweredNYC, a collaboration with the City of New York and the National Disability Institute, expands financial empowerment and economic inclusion for people living with disabilities. EmpoweredNYC is the first local program of the larger Empowered Cities initiative. Learn more
